To whom it may concern,

Operating as a virtual company we have been fortunate in acquiring the services of Albert Keeshan to fulfil a wide and varied range of HR needs and activities within the Amarin organisation.

Albert brings a level of professionalism to the position that we could not have reached without his input. His flexibility and range of skills in the management of our HR issues and advice given to date has been a valuable asset to supporting our growing operation and we look forward to his continued assistance with our organisation.

We would expect Albert to perform his range of skills, knowledge and experience in a similar way for any other organisation wishing to use his services.

Yours sincerely,

David Boal
